Reliant is proud to be a presenting sponsor of the annual March for Babies. Every dollar raised at this event supports health equity, education, and prenatal research for healthier moms and babies in your community. #ReliantGives

Spring Tips

Headline

Caulk your windows and doors

Post 1 Copy

Spring is a perfect time to prepare your home for the hot summer months. Beat the heat by caulking leaks in your doors and windows to keep cool air inside. Headline

Replace your air filter

Post 2 Copy

Cleaning and replacing your air filter can reduce your air conditioner's energy consumption by up to 15%. This spring, make time to check your AC unit to ensure it's working properly and in good enough condition for the hot summer months. Headline

Use your ceiling fan

Post 3 Copy

This spring, save energy by opening your windows and turning on your ceiling fan. This isn't always doable in the summer, so take advantage of the current cooler temperatures and skip the AC. Learn more at: <https://www.reliant.com/en/residential/electricity/save-energy/tips-to-lower-your-electricity-bill/seasonal-tips/index.jsp>

Headline

Use natural lighting

Post 4 copy

This spring, instead of turning on the lights, let the sun brighten your home during the day. Learn more at: <https://www.reliant.com/en/residential/electricity/save-energy/tips-to-lower-your-electricity-bill/seasonal-tips/index.jsp>

Install window treatments

Post 5 copy

We're all familiar with the summer heat in Texas. This spring, prepare for the coming hot temperatures by installing shades or blackout curtains to reduce the amount of heat that comes in through your windows. Seal your AC's ducts

Post 6 Copy

Want to know an energy efficiency tip for the hot summer months? Seal the AC ducts in your home. Around 30% of a cooling system's energy usage is lost to leaky air ducts. Seal them during the spring to stay ahead of the game. Learn more at: <https://www.reliant.com/en/residential/electricity/save-energy/tips-to-lower-your-electricity-bill/seasonal-tips/index.jsp>

Enjoy the outdoors

Post 7 Copy

This spring, skip the gym and go for a run at your local park or around your neighborhood. You'll only need electricity to charge your phone so you can listen to your favorite music.
